

TCU FINANCIAL GROUP

Purpose

The Board of Directors has ultimate accountability for the governance of the credit union, pursuant to governing legislation and bylaws.

- Exercise the care, diligence and skill a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances.
- Comply and cause the credit union to comply with legislation pertaining to credit unions, orders of the Registrar, orders of the Corporation, the Standards of Sound Business Practice, financial and business practice directives and the credit union’s articles and bylaws.

The Director as an individual is responsible for:

- Devoting the necessary time to the important role entrusted to them. All Directors should consider the number and nature of the directorships and calls on their time from other commitments.

Individual board members are expected to adhere to the concept of “in control”, which refers to the ability to demonstrate operations are subject to effective corporate governance, managed in accordance with appropriate, prudent, and effective strategic management, capital management and risk management processes and supported by a sound control environment.
